GREETINGS

Dear players, dear parents.

The game of golf is demanding, difficult and time consuming process. Young players need to attend school, study and invest a lot of free time for training and playing on tournaments. They deserve our respect and admiration. Their life is quite similar to adults working two jobs at the time. That effort deserves to be supported and that's the idea of IMP PUMPS – supporting the tournament we support effort of these young players trying to give them opportunity to play in the best international participation in our region.

But, please children, do not forget your parents who are crucial factors in this time consuming sport. They are your drivers, caddies, coaches, investors, supporters,... All of that at the same time. Give them your love and gratitude because they are very few people who are always on your side.
